

CHARITY GOLF

Teeing off for a worthy cause

Companies lend their support to a charity golf in event aid of children

On Oct 3, the OCBC-TODAY Children's Fund will be holding a golf event at Sentosa Golf Club's Serapong Course to raise money. Dr Vivian Balakrishnan, Minister for the Environment and Water Resources, will grace the occasion and play a game.

Companies have stepped up to offer their support, and Sun Venture Investments, a real estate developer and investment company is one of them. The organisation has donated S$5,888 for one flight in the golf tournament.

Mr Alvin Teo, Sun Venture's managing director, revealed that he has invited business associates to take up the four spots for the game. Despite not being an avid golfer himself, he found it meaningful to contribute to the fund, which supports the emotional needs of children from distressed backgrounds. He said: "It's a worthy cause."

The donation is part of Sun Venture's ongoing corporate social responsibility efforts. The company regularly supports events organised by its business associates in aid of the less fortunate. Some recent examples
